

Graf Zeppelin Heads Northward To Escape Gale

Moscow, Aug. 16 (AP).—Yesterday the Graf Zeppelin headed northward to escape a gale, the dirigible today sped across Soviet Russia toward Tokyo. Apparently it was well aloft.

At 2:05 a. m. (7:05 p. m. Thursday, E. S. T.) the dirigible gave its position as over Wischni-Wiltschok, about 175 miles northwest of Moscow and midway between this capital and Leningrad, old capital of the state.

At that time the dirigible had covered 1,245 miles at an average speed of 60 miles an hour. The last 50 miles the ship made an average of about 75 miles an hour.

At 3:00 a. m. (8:00 p. m., E. S. T. Thursday) the Zeppelin radioed Soviet authorities here that it was compelled to proceed to the north and avoid Moscow because of unfavorable weather. It was believed here that Dr. Eckener, leading tail winds which helped him northeastward at the comparatively rapid rate of 75 miles an hour, but constrained to take advantage of them.

No definite weather reports were available but it was understood the Zeppelin probably would meet adverse winds and heavy weather before reaching and crossing the Ural Mountains, probably near Ogojovsk. From Wischni-Wiltschok to the Ural, if the crossing was made at Bogopol'ski, as Dr. Eckener planned, it was approximately 1,900 miles, the course eastward and slightly north. There were no large cities along the route.

The Ural crossing was not expected to present any considerable hazard, since the average height of the mountain area is only something more than 1,500 feet. Barring mishaps it was expected the Graf Zeppelin would be well in the mountainous area by early afternoon.

At Wischni-Wiltschok the Graf had flown over between a fifth and sixth of its 6,500-7,000 mile journey, although the section traversed was the least dangerous to be crossed. More than three days of the expected five-day journey will be spent in cruising above the vast Siberian steppe where a forced landing might have serious consequences.

Speed of the Zeppelin yesterday varied with weather conditions. The average remained in the neighborhood of 60 miles an hour. Little difficulty was experienced in maintaining communication with the ship and its position was reported frequently.

TESTIFIES PRINGLE GIRL WAS TRYING TO ESCAPE

Los Angeles, Aug. 16 (AP).—Testimony that Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old dancer, was struggling to escape from the private office of Alexander Pantages as W. L. Gordon, prosecution witness, arrived at the scene of the alleged attack on her last Friday, was on record today in the theatrical magnate's preliminary hearing on statutory charges.

Gordon, who testified the girl's repeated screams drew him from his office in the Pantages building, declared that as he reached Pantages' office door Miss Pringle's hand was protruding. As he pushed the door open, Gordon said, the girl half fell out, then ran down the hall screaming for aid.

The witness declared that as he looked in the door he saw Pantages. Then a young woman came behind him, attempting to "reach around me and close the door." Then, Gordon states, a "young man in a blue suit rushed past me into the room, helped Pantages to his feet, and slammed the door." As the Pringle girl ran out, he continued, Pantages said, "hush, close the door."

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL'S BIGGEST LIQUOR RING.

Washington, August 16 (AP).—Eight men have been arrested and four are being sought by prohibition agents and police in a roundup of what they describe as the biggest liquor ring that ever operated in the capital.

All are charged with conspiracy to violate the prohibition act. Seven of those arrested are at liberty under bonds ranging from $2,500 to $5,000. Six, including Herbert Glassman, proprietor of a rent-a-car service and two garages, surrendered upon learning he had been named in the warrants.

Glassman's garages are alleged to have been used as depots for reception and distribution of intoxicants.

BIG INCREASE IN HUNTING LICENSES

Washington, Aug. 16 (AP).—Hunting licenses granted in the United States and Alaska are reported by the Department of Agriculture to have increased during the season of 1927-28 to 6,450,000, a gain of 462,495 over the preceding year.

One-third Favor Recognition of The Soviet Union

Warsaw, Poland, Aug. 16 (AP).—The delegation of Americans who have been touring Soviet Russia for business and professional observations, now that they are out of that country, have expressed their opinions as to American recognition of the ten-year-old Communist Republic.

A poll taken among members of the junket after their 25-day tour, in which they covered 4,000 miles, showed that only 33 1-3 per cent were unqualified in favor of American recognition of the Soviet Union.

Sixty-six and two-thirds per cent insisted upon various conditions to that recognition. Fifty per cent made payment of the Czar's debts one of the conditions and 62 2-3 per cent made payment of the Kerensky regime debts another of the conditions.

Eighty-three of those favoring recognition insisted on indemnification for American property confiscated during the revolution; 86 per cent insisted upon guarantees against Communist propaganda in the United States.

Forty-three per cent of the total unqualifiedly believed Soviet Russia offered a safe investment for American capital; 50 per cent believed American investments in Soviet Russia were safe only if the United States accorded recognition to the Soviet government; 14 per cent considered American capital would not be safe in Soviet Russia if the American government did decide to recognize the union.

Complete First Leg of Journey

San Francisco, Aug. 16 (AP).—The trans-continental non-stop endurance plane "Spokane Sun God" arrived over Mills Field at 5:25 a. m. today.

The plane took off at Spokane at 5:55 p. m. yesterday. Nick Mamer and Art Walker are the crew.

After refueling over Oakland at dawn, Mamer and Walker planned to head eastward to make refueling contacts at Cheyenne, Wyo., at 7 p. m. (M. T.) at Cleveland at 9:50 a. m. (E. S. T.) Saturday. On the return trip they planned to refuel at Cleveland at 7:30 p. m. (E. S. T.) at St. Paul at 5 a. m. (C. S. T.) Sunday and head then for Spokane over the proposed northern air mail route for the next refueling.

Completing the first leg of a projected flight over a Spokane-San Francisco-New York course, the shiny plane circled the field and signalled for two contacts. The refueling plane Californian, piloted by Donald Templeman, took up a load of gasoline for the first contact.

The endurance fliers made it known that they had arrived over San Francisco about 3 a. m. but that haze had kept them at a high altitude until daylight when they came down far enough to be sighted.

The first contact was completed without trouble and auxiliary craft returned to the field for a load of supplies for the Spokane Sun God, preparatory to its departure for Cheyenne, Wyo.

Tappen Camp Ball September 4

At the last meeting of Tappen Camp, Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, plans were formulated and committees appointed to have charge of the first testimonial ball in honor of the living veterans of the Civil War, who reside in Kingston and vicinity.

The ball, which will be held in Pythian Hall on Wednesday evening, September 4, promises to be an impressive affair and the camp is leaving no stone unturned to make this occasion, the first of its nature held in Kingston, a most decided success.

Further details will be announced later. The public is asked to co-operate with the camp.

Committees in charge: Entertainment, William Robertson, chairman; Louis Woolsey and Charles Slater, publicity; James M. Krom, chairman; B. M. Mealy, Hiram Woolsey and William France, invitations; Joy S. Rosa, chairman; Augustus B. Woolsey and Leslie Eckert, music; Alvin Mackey, chairman; B. M. Mealy and George Simmons.

It is also planned to have several prominent speakers to address the public, and refreshments will be served.

BOY INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY TRUCK

Isidore Wemig, a Brooklyn boy, was injured Thursday afternoon when he was struck by the Kingston News truck driven by Joseph Levine on the Ellenville-Kingston highway, near the turn off to Mettacahtons. A party he was with went to the side of the road when they observed the Levine car, but the boy did not, according to reports. His mother called him and he is said to have run in front of the approaching car. The boy received a cut on his chin and had his hands bruised and cut. Dr. Rymph of Bloomington gave him treatment and he was removed to his boarding house.

High Winds Fan Forest Fires

Seattle, Aug. 16 (AP).—Fanned by high winds and encouraged by low humidity, forest fires in eastern Washington, Idaho and Montana were adding today to the already heavy toll they have taken from the wooded areas of the three states.

In British Columbia the flames in Kootenay forest claimed their first life. Ludwig Karndt, seriously crushed about the head by a falling tree while fighting a fire at Farron, died in a Nelson, B. C., hospital.

The fires were scornful of both natural and artificial barriers, leaping a river in Idaho to roar deeper into the forest and sweeping over backfires in Washington forests as if they had not been built.

Rain was believed to be the only possible means of quenching some of the fires after the efforts of hundreds of men to beat them back had failed.

Residents in the Chelan districts of Washington, despairing of conquering the fires with only local aid, telegraphed Senator C. C. Dill in Washington, D. C., asking him to seek the aid of federal troops, but he advised them the forest service must first request such help. Every man in the northern Chelan county was drafted to fight a 12,000 acre fire late yesterday.

The Sherman creek fire in the Colville national forest of Washington was racing in 30,000 acres of yellow pine. Airplane observers said the canyons were infernos of flame and smoke.

Aided by heavy winds, the Bald mountain fire in the Selway forest of Idaho jumped across the Lochsa river on a quarter mile front and was approaching the Clearwater forest boundary. The fire covers 8,000 acres.

ATTEMPT TO SETTLE DISPUTE AT ELLENVILLE

An attempt to mediate the differences between the Rondout Valley Hotelmen's Association and the Ellenville Hotelkeepers' Association has been made by the Rondout Valley Chamber of Commerce. The two warring associations have been keen rivals and this rivalry burst into flame a few weeks ago over the fact that the O. & W. Railroad had set aside certain parking places at the Ellenville station for certain hotels' use.

An injunction was secured restraining members of the local association from parking in spaces designated by the railroad for use of the Ellenville association. An appeal was taken and Judge McNamee in supreme court vacated the temporary injunction restraining Rondout Valley Hotelmen's Association members from using its rival's spaces.

At the time of the argument of the motion Judge McNamee stated that it appeared as though the railroad was discriminating against some hotelkeepers by assigning them less desirable spaces instead of permitting the rule of first come first served to take care of the situation.

FOUND FLAW IN NEW ESCAPE-PROOF JAIL

Palatine, Ill., August 16 (AP).—The reason Palatine didn't dedicate its new, escape-proof jail this week was because the prisoner, captured especially for the event, escaped.

The dedication was to have been held Tuesday. On Monday night, therefore, policemen scoured the town for a jail guest, finally arresting A. L. Fialka of Chicago. The following day found Fialka was gone, he having decided that the escape-proof jail was merely a figure of speech.

Chicago police yesterday arrested Fialka and held him on a charge of jail breaking for Palatine officers. It is not unlikely that when the Palatine jail is dedicated next week its prisoner will be Fialka, and the charge against him will be escaping from the jail being dedicated.

CONGRESSIONAL INQUIRY MAY RESULT FROM LOANS

Washington, Aug. 16 (AP).—The upward trend during the summer of loans to brokers by Federal reserve member Banks promised to lead to some sort of Congressional inquiry into the credit situation this fall.

Senator Fletcher of Florida, the ranking Democrat on the Senate banking committee, today declared in favor of a survey of Federal credit conditions by the committee along the lines proposed in the pending resolution of Senator King, Democrat, Utah.

The King resolution, proposing a broad inquiry into stock market transactions and into the credit situation generally, is now before the committee.

Failure of Hague Conference Now Seems Certain

The Hague, Aug. 16 (AP).—A breakdown in the conference to make the Young plan effective, so often threatened, loomed dangerously near today. Unless opposing delegations make important concessions it appeared the end might come Saturday.

Tomorrow, when the financial committee of the conference meets for further discussion of the Young plan, there will be found aligned against each other, and diametrically opposed on a vital point, Great Britain on the one hand, France, Belgium, Italy, and Japan on the other.

Great Britain's viewpoint, as reiterated no later than yesterday by Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer, is that the British share of the German reparations is too small, and that unless it is increased, and other lesser concessions made, the Young reparations plan is unacceptable.

France, Italy, Belgium, and Japan are united in opposition to Great Britain. Louis Loucheur, French labor minister, last night announced those governments would be unable to accept the British contention. He reiterated solidarity of the four nations.

Last minute efforts to reach an agreement on the financial question and plans looking toward evacuation of the Rhineland were in progress today.

Premier Briand of France called on Foreign Minister Stresemann of Germany and again talked about evacuation of the Rhineland, while Emile Francqui, Belgian delegate, called on Mr. Snowden with a formal proposition from the other creditor powers.

It is understood that Great Britain was offered 60 per cent of her claims, or about 30,000,000 marks a year (about $7,500,000) to be included in the unconditional annuities.

Premier Briand told Mr. Stresemann the second zone of the occupation of the Rhineland, the Coblenz Bridgehead, would be evacuated by the middle of November.

Forced to Land On Mountain Top

Santa Monica, Cal., Aug. 16 (AP).—A new motor was enroute from here to Flat Top Mountain in Arizona today for installation in Miss Ruth Nichols' airplane, which she was forced to land on the isolated mountain Wednesday while on her way to enter the Santa Monica-Cleveland women's air derby starting Sunday.

First word from Miss Nichols was received yesterday from Salome, Ariz., where the young woman walked from Flat Top Mountain. She trudged over 40 miles of mountain and desert waste to send word to Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo, Jr., of Los Angeles, regarding the mishap.

The information from Miss Nichols indicated that despite the rough character of the terrain, she had made a successful landing after her motor stopped.

A crew of mechanics accompanied and expected to have it installed in time for Miss Nichols to line up at Clover Field with the other contestants when the derby starts.

Fatally Shot Near His Home

New York, Aug. 16 (AP).—Fatally shot as he strolled near his home in Long Island City, James Emmi, 39, a district political leader in Queens, was believed by the police today to have been "put on the spot" by enemies in a bootleg or gambling feud.

An automobile had been following him drew near the curb when he was four blocks from his home. Four shots were fired and as Emmi fell the automobile sped away.

The police said a candy store conducted by Emmi was raided last spring when charges of running a gambling game and possessing liquor were filed against him. Six barrels of alleged wine, however, changed to water overnight, and both the gambling and liquor charges were dismissed. Charges were filed against two policemen in connection with the alleged substitution of the water for wine but eventually were dropped.

THREW TURPENTINE AND SET FIRE TO HER

New York, Aug. 16 (AP).—Mrs. Anna Crofield, 35, of Brooklyn, was near death from burns today and detectives were seeking a mysterious assailant who they believed threw turpentine on her and set fire to her.

Racing Plane's Graceful Lines

Everything possible done to eliminate or lessen air resistance on monoplane.

Annapolis, Md., Aug. 16 (AP).—Air resistance—a monster which consumes horsepower in mounting proportions as airplane speed increases—has been given a blow by Lieutenant A. Williams' Mercury racer.

The powerful little monoplane, awaiting only favorable weather for test flights to determine if it will compete for the Schneider seaplane trophy, is in effect, a bullet aimed at the heart of this resistance. Every line flows gracefully into the other and every possible resistance producing part is highly streamlined.

A comparison of the Mercury seaplane and the Curtiss racer, with which Lieutenant Jimmy Doolittle won the Schneider trophy for the United States in 1925, brings out strikingly the advances in aerodynamics. One of the chief differences is that the Mercury is a monoplane instead of a biplane, eliminating the necessity for two interplane struts. While two struts connected the pontoons of the Doolittle plane, the pontoons of the Mercury racer are linked by small streamlined wires.

The pontoons of the Mercury show a marked advance in streamlining. Whereas the floats of the 1925 winner presented projections and irregularities of surface to stir eddies and set up resistance, the Mercury's pontoons are smooth and symmetrical. Fittings, clevises and nuts which were presented to the wind on the Doolittle plane are streamlined on the Mercury. Outside cowlings fasteners also have been eliminated on the Williams machine and every screw is countersunk.

These might seem of small matter to the layman, but the importance of streamlining may be understood when it is realized that the resistance parts offer to the wind increases in proportion to the square of the speed. This consumes power rapidly.

Skin friction, the dragging of the air over the surface of a plane, has been cut to a minimum by reduction of fuselage area and by highly polished surfaces. The entire wing surface is copper covered, being utilized as a radiator to cool the engine. It is the first time on an American plane that the entire wing surface has been so employed.

While the trial flights have been delayed by the weather mechanics have been going over the racer. Several changes have been made, the most important being adjustment of controls to counteract the torque of the powerful engine, which tended to rotate the plane to the left.

HALF A MILLION WORKERS WILL RETURN TO TASKS

Manchester, Eng., Aug. 16 (AP).—Half a million workers will return to their tasks on Monday and the wheels in Lancashire's 1,500 cotton mills will start turning after being still for three full weeks.

An eleven-hour conference last night between representatives of the striking operatives and the employers culminated in an agreement to submit to arbitration the employers' demand for an all-round reduction in wages of 12.52 per cent.

In the meantime work will be resumed on Monday and the old rate of wages will be paid pending the decision of the arbitration court. The court is to consist of five members, two nominated by the employers, two by the operatives and an independent chairman to be mutually agreed upon. Both sides have undertaken to abide its decision.

The result of the conference was announced by Sir Horace Wilson, permanent secretary of the ministry of labor, who played the role of mediator.

ORINOCO INDIANS LIVE ON WORMS, BUGS AND ANTS

New York, Aug. 16 (AP).—A race of Indians along the Orinoco River in Venezuela so timid they are afraid to fish was described by Dr. Herbert Spencer Dickey, of the American Indian Foundation, upon his arrival on the Furness liner Silvia.

He said the Indians live secluded in a canyon 1,000 miles up the river and subsist entirely on worms, bugs and ants. They do not eat animals in the belief that the souls of men enter beasts after death.

Dr. Dickey, who had set out to trace the headwaters of the Orinoco, termed his expedition a "dismal failure." He was forced to return after traveling 1,200 miles upstream for the loss of the outboard motor of his sailing yacht.

WILL BRING SUIT AGAINST LIGGETT FOR SLANDER

Boston, Aug. 16 (AP).—Former Mayor James M. Curley, today declared there was "not one word of truth" in the charges made by Louis K. Liggett, Massachusetts member of the Republican national committee, that Curley, a Democrat and Roman Catholic, was responsible for the circulation of anti-Catholic literature during the last presidential campaign.

Liggett charged that Curley circulated such literature to "damage the reputation of the Democrats." Curley declared he intended to instruct his attorneys to bring suit against Liggett for slander.

Oppose Flashing Light Signals at Katrine Crossing

Albany, Aug. 15.—Objections to installation of flashing light signals at the grade crossing of the West Shore railroad and Neighborhood highway of Lake Katrine station in Ulster county, were presented today to the Public Service Commission by Frank A. McNamee, Jr., representing railroad company. The lights had been requested by Lake Katrine Grange No. 1065 and Graham C. Parish, who spoke for the Grange today, said that the main reason was that 34 school children used the crossing twice a day; that the view was obstructed that owing to the grade of the approaches and the narrow roadway it was a hazard. He said there had been five accidents at the crossing since 1919, but knew of only one causing death. Trains maintain a high rate of speed at this point, he said. Mr. McNamee said the cost of signals would be $3,500; that the traffic did not warrant the installation; that the road was not of sufficient importance to the town to have it improved to any extent, and the expense that would be involved was unreasonable. He asked for a dismissal of the complaint. The Commission adjourned the hearing, and the case will be closed unless other evidence is to be presented.

Chinese-Soviet Clashes Reported

London, Aug. 16 (AP).—Renewed alarming aspects of the Chinese-Soviet crisis were reported in Reuters dispatches from Mukden, Manchuria, today. Other sources related continued clashes, although apparently of minor character, along the border between Russians and Chinese and Russians and white Russian emigres.

A Reuters Mukden dispatch said Chan Hsueh Liang, head of the three Manchurian provincial governments, had ordered 60,000 Fengtien troops to the Siberian border, half to be commanded by Marshal Wang Shih Chen at Manchuli and half to be stationed in the east at Sulienho (Pogranichnaya) under General Ho Yu Kwan.

It was said that 200 Russian marines who had occupied two small towns on the lower Sungari river had been driven off, six Russians and two Chinese dying in the conflict.

Some sources reported a lack of agreement between the Nationalist government and the Mukden provincial government. The Daily Mail in a Dairen dispatch said the correspondent Thursday visited Mukden and found a complete ignorance there of the condition of affairs.

Change, the writer said, apparently feared the Nanking government was intriguing to overthrow him since the Chinese, finding their position untenable, sought means to escape from their dilemma.

New Leads in Search for Slayers

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 16 (AP).—Finding of her red tam o'shaunter and holding of another suspect who had been acquainted with the girl today gave police new leads in their search for the slayer of Dorothy Aune, 12 years old.

The tam was missing when Dorothy's body was found near a railroad yard early Wednesday, 14 hours after she had left home. The body was wrapped in two gunnysacks and a corset was around the neck.

The latest suspect to be held was said to have admitted that he knew the Aune girl and that he had taken her to a lake to swim. He refused to answer many questions put to him by police.

He was one of nine persons held in jail for questioning today. Detectives spent most of yesterday afternoon and evening interrogating three brothers, all shoemakers, but announced last night that they had failed to find anything to connect any of them with the slaying.

Rewards for capture and convictions of the slayer today totaled $4,955.

LADIES INVITED TO LEGION CLAMBAKE

Robert C. isman, chairman of the clambake committee of the American Legion, wishes to announce that ladies and children will be welcome to the Legion clambake which will be held at Torino's Inn on Sunday, August 25, at 4 p. m. He also wishes it understood that the clambake is not for Legionnaires only. Everyone is welcome.

Granted Increase in Pension. Through the efforts of Congressman Harcourt J. Pratt of this district an increase in pension has been granted at Washington, D. C., to William Cohen of this city for physical disability which was caused following an operation Mr. Cohen underwent while a member of Company M, with which he served during the Spanish-American war.

A Traffic Violation.

Joseph Feller was arrested by Officer Henry Barman Thursday for a traffic violation and gave $20 bail for his appearance in city court on Wednesday, August 21.

Room Country With Lightning On Auto Trailer

Rolling Generator Looks Like Hay Loading Machine—Bolt Splits Four-foot Sticks of Hardwood.

Science City, N. Y., Aug. 16 (AP).—Science has furnished gasoline wing to man-made lightning and taken it outdoors to compete with real thunderbolts.

This announcement, made here today, is both a slam at Jove and a tribute to the eagerness of American electrical engineers.

Impatient after nearly two years waiting for real, wild lightning to strike special testing stations, they have put their own lightning, in million volt shots, on the wheels of an auto trailer and taken it out to Croton, in western Michigan, there to roam around at their direction and to strike where the striking will do the most good, that is, where it will give them the inside facts on how to keep the electric lights from going out during these summer thunder-showers.

More than a year ago electrical engineers went out into the open with an instrument fast enough to catch wild lightning, the cathode oscillograph, which photographs the surge of lightning hitting a power line in terms of millions of a second. They set up apparatus in the stormiest places in the country. One was in the Tennessee Mountains, another near Chicago. They found that lightning hit too infrequently to furnish much information.

To overcome this waiting the General Electric Company announced today it has set up the "first portable lightning generator" at Croton on the high-tension lines of the Consumers Power Company.

The rolling generator somewhat resembles a hay loading machine. Its power comes mainly from a series of 80 condensers, that look like storage batteries. It can be plugged into an ordinary lamp socket of 110-volt circuit, but carries a portable gasoline engine and generator for dashes into the woods or other remote spots where the engineers need a little lightning data. It has been used as a toy to split four-foot sticks of hardwood.

K. B. McEachron, the engineer who developed the equipment, says the experiments in the field already have "demonstrated that there is a rare promise of practical foundation for immediate and revolutionary improvements" in protection against effects of lightning on power lines.

BACK AFTER BEING MAROONED IN FAR NORTH

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 16 (AP).—The crew of the amphibian plane "Tutit" Bowler were on their way to Chicago today from the far north where their plane was lost in the ice.

Robert Gast and Parker Cramer, pilots, were marooned with Robert Wood, aviation editor of the Chicago Tribune, at Port Burwell, a Canadian radio station on Hudson Bay, a month ago while attempting a flight from Chicago to Germany by way of Greenland.

Their plane broke from its moorings and was crushed in the ice during a storm.

After a wait of three weeks they went from Port Burwell on the Canadian hydrographic steamer Acadia to Port Churchill, northern terminus of the Hudson Bay railway. They arrived here yesterday from the Pas, Man., and boarded a train for Chicago.

Despite the failure of their enterprise, which was sponsored by the Chicago Tribune, they declared they were ready to make another effort to blaze a northern commercial air route between America and Europe.

BELIEVE NOBLE PLANNING ANOTHER ARCTIC EXPEDITION

Berlin, Aug. 16 (AP).—General Umberto Nobile, Italian explorer, arrived in Berlin today and it was conjectured that he is planning another Arctic expedition. He left for Gotha to confer with several scientists. Yesterday he conferred with Berlin aeronautical experts.

General Nobile declined to discuss the Italia disaster beyond saying: "I am convinced that the truth about the catastrophe will rapidly become known after publication of my book."

Awarded Plumbing Contract.

Contract for the plumbing, heating, roofing and metal work on the new building to be erected on Fair street on the site of the Ulster Garage property by Schuyler C. Schultz and Samuel Westberg for Montgomery Ward & Company, has been awarded to the R. Longbrun Plumbing Company of Fair street. Mr. Longbrun already has a gang of men at work salvaging the old plumbing and heating equipment as the building is being torn down. The general contract for the job was awarded to the W. E. Joyce Company, Inc., and calls for completion of work by November 15.

Identifies Thief of $3,000.

Sturtevant, R. L., Aug. 15 (AP).—Carl Hockett, 40, insurance agent of Uxbridge, Mass., was identified early today by Charles E. Seagrave, Jr., cashier of the First National Bank, as the man who stole nearly $3,000 from the institution yesterday while holding the cashier and his father at bay with a revolver. Hockett was arrested in Uxbridge. He denied the charge.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

New York—A car crash on the road of President M. T. Lewis started a run on the Bay Ridge Savings Bank in Brooklyn.

Lewis' visit to a hospital brought rumors of his death and $2,000,000 with withdrawn before deposition were returned.

London—Deck tennis—that modern little sister of the sport ruled by Queen Helen Wills—has become so popular that standardization of rules for its play are in prospect.
Virtually every liner of any size now has deck courts.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—The oldest compact extant is believed to be in possession of Captain H. F. Wen-ster. It dates back to the stone age, he says, and was made by Lewis' use of the same technique as her father's sister except there was no mirror.

Boston, Col.—Raiders of a farm with a large poster bearing a copy of the Lord's Prayer over three barrels of cash and another with the Twenty-third Psalm over the still.

Boston—Too much of a good thing—a fishing trawler on the George Bank, after catching more than a full-grown cod, encountered an adult whale. The trawl was demolished, forcing abandonment of the cruise.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y.—Out to get their first close-up "view" of an airplane, 22 blind boys visited this field. Inmates of a local institution for the sightless, they had evinced so much interest in aviation that they were brought to obtain through hearing as close an approximation as possible of the visual image.
Each was allowed to sit in a plane and manipulate the controls.

Cordova, Alaska—Forty walrus and six polar bears are part of the bag obtained by the Jonas Polar Expedition to the Philadelphia Museum.

New York—Commander Dick
Byrd in the Antarctic has radioed
the Edgar Allen Poe Society here his agreement to "name something" for Poe if there is anything left after the long list I now have.
Byrd said he would first commemorate members of his expedition and those who made it possible.

New York—Opponents of a proposed memorial to Charles F. Murphy, Tammany leader, in Union Square assert among other arguments it will entail the removal of statues of Lincoln, Washington and LaFayette to "less conspicuous sites."

Speculator, N. Y.—Power of suggestion invoked? Jimmy Slattery has taken Gene Tunney's old quarters in training for his expected bout with the winner of the Sharkey-Loughran match.

SAUGERTIES

Saugerties, Aug. 16.—Russell Cole of Phoenixia, Elizabeth Garvey of Schenectady, Frank Bonacci of this village were operated upon for the removal of their tonsils and adenoids by Doctors Emerick and Krom.

Charles Young of Farmingdale, L.
I., who was flying from Buffalo to New York city landed at the Saug-erties airport on Saturday while a storm was in progress.

Miss Dorothy Yahnke of Livingston street was operated upon for appendicitis at the Benedictine hospital on Monday by Dr. O'Connor.

A son has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gage of Theodore Place on last Sunday evening.

A new electric air pressure automatic tire inflator has been installed in front of the Van Buskirk Garage on Partition street.

Mrs. Harold Steiger of Mac Donald street was operated upon recently in the Beers Sanitarium by Doctor Krom and Emerick.

Miss Rachel Miller of Brooklyn is spending some time with Mrs. Sylvanus Van Steenberg on Partition street.

STATE-MENTS

HEED this, my friend, if there would safeguard thy motor with the finest lubrication—use Quaker State Motor Oil. From this oil, a special refining process has removed the quart of waste material that has little or no value in lubricating thy automobile motor—yet is found in each gallon of ordinary oil. Thus, in Quaker State, thee gets four full quarts of lubricant without waste—truly, an extra quart of lubricant in every gallon!

Husband and Wife Agree On Nu-Erb

Mr. and Mrs. Chancy Ryan

Niagara Falls, N. Y.—The following experiences of well known local couple with Dr. French's Nu-Erb is indeed interesting to many of those unfortunates who suffer from some form of stomach, liver or kidney disorders. Mr. and Mrs.
Chancy Ryan, who reside at 424
First St., Niagara Falls, N. Y., agree in perfect accord that Nu-Erb is a medicine of most unusual merits and relate how they were each helped by using this medicine.

Mr. Ryan says: "I was in a very weak, rundown condition, felt tired and worn out all of the time and slept very poorly at night. I had no appetite to speak of, was very nervous and would get frequent staggering dizzy spells. I was also subject to severe headaches and had achy, rheumatic pains throughout my joints."

"Nu-Erb has entirely overcome each of these troubles and now I am feeling well and strong again.
It is surely a great medicine and everyone who suffers as I did should give it a chance to help them."

and acted very frequently throughout the night. Rheumatism set in my joints and muscles, which I suppose was caused by accumulations of poisons in my system.

"I tried lots of medicines, but could seem to get nothing that would help me until I started taking Nu-Erb a short time ago. This wonderful medicine has put my stomach in such good condition that my food now digests without giving me any trouble with gas, sourness or heartburn. The rheumatism and headaches that I used to have are now all gone. I sleep fine and my kidneys do not disturb me through the night. Both my husband and myself think Nu-Erb is the best medicine we have ever known and will gladly recommend it."

Let this amazing Nu-Erb help you back to health and strength.
Its pure herbal juices tone and regulate the vital organs and build new strength, energy and vitality.
Nu-Erb is pleasant to take and the results are quickly felt.

Legion Special To Louisville

The following have made reservations on the Kingston Post special train, which will run from Rhinecliff to Louisville, Ky., and return, to attend the national convention of the American Legion:

Samuel H. Peyer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Black, Mrs. Stanley J. Matthews, Mrs. Walter J. Miller, Mrs. R. Earl Maly, Mrs. William H. McNamee, Mrs. Roy E. Jacob, Mrs. Harry Whitney, Mrs. Lester C. Fimendorf, Mrs. Kenneth Lantry, Roy Johnson, county clerk of Sullivan county, and D. Johnston.

The special train will consist of one Pullman sleeping car, one Pullman compartment car and one observation club car.

It will leave Rhinecliff Saturday, September 28, at 5 p. m., and returning will arrive at Rhinecliff Sunday, October 6, at 9:30 p. m. Stopovers will be made in Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Cincinnati. Five days will be spent in Louisville. The train will be parked at the station at Louisville, along with Pullmans from all over the country, and will be attached to the city water, electric lighting system, sewerage system and telephone system, and the Pullmans will be made into comfortable hotel rooms.

The city of Louisville is making extensive preparations for the thousands of Legionnaires and their families and friends who will attend the convention. A larger gathering than even San Antonio is expected at Louisville. Trips will be made to the Mammoth Cave, special races will be run at the country's most famous race track just outside the city at Latonia, and rodeos, air circuses and other spectacles will be put on for the visitors. Then there will be the great national parade of the American Legion.

The local Legion drum corps is drilling twice weekly at the Kingston Fair Grounds in preparation for the national contest of drum corps at Louisville and expects this year to give the national champions, Miami Post drum corps, a run for their money.

Legionnaires or other citizens interested in accompanying the Kingston drum corps to Louisville are asked to get in touch with Andrew J. Murphy, Jr., the Strand news dealer, for full information.

Drain Tile "Logs" Used as Building Material

A "log house" in which the "logs" are formed by common red drain pipe tile has been built in Kingsville, Ontario, Canada. Charles Miner, who erected the unique dwelling, chose tile for the material because it provides dead-air space in the walls to protect the interior from cold in winter and heat in summer.

The house stands on a foundation of concrete blocks, except for the porch and steps, which are supported by the tiles. A wooden framework, sheathed with boards in the usual manner, was first erected and the tile "logs" were laid in courses like brick veneer up the sides. At corners, the ends of the tiles overlap in criss-cross fashion, much as did logs in the cabins of pioneer days. Where the ends of the logs are exposed, they are closed with cement colored to match. This insures dead-air space and prevents birds and squirrels from entering.

The cost of the unusual house is said to have been moderate as compared with the cost of the conventional wood or brick home.—Popular Science Monthly.

Early Man Had Faith in Arrow Divination

Long ago, in the most high and far off times, primitive man resorted to the making of magic to determine what course to pursue in the vast wilderness of his ancient world, writes Catherine Hargrave in the Boston Transcript. Arrow divination was a favored kind. To make this magic a circle was drawn on the ground with the proper rites and incantations and divided into the Four Directions. With more mystic ceremony arrows were cast into the ring and upon the manner of their falling depended the future.

The American Indians did this as well as the Asiatic peoples, and in both countries gaming sticks resembling arrows, sometimes with actual feathered shaftments and sometimes with the feathers painted upon them, were used to play a game much like the older magical processes, with a circle on the ground, divided into four or eight parts.

EXPANDED COTTON MARKET.

The Lancashire cotton mill strikers, after two weeks of idleness, were induced to consent to arbitration, their employers also consenting, after Premier MacDonald had personally intervened. This will be widely recognized as a desirable settlement, but what is of chief interest to the American observer is the marked change in conditions that has come about in the course of years. Sixty-odd years ago the looms of Lancashire and the cotton plantations of the South were so dependent on each other that a great textile strike in England would have resulted in conditions of panic, but the recent difficulty in Lancashire caused no disturbance whatever in the American cotton market.

The reason for this is that American cotton is no longer dependent on the British market. Great Britain's imports of our cotton have dropped to less than 18 per cent of our total export. Germany now leads with 28 per cent, Japan has increased her consumption to 15 per cent, and according to the latest figures even Russia is taking five per cent. Nor does Great Britain any longer depend wholly on American cotton plantations, having developed other sources of supply, mainly in Egypt and India.

Although Great Britain has lost to the United States, Germany and Japan much foreign trade that was once her exclusive possession, she is still leader in the cotton manufacturing industry, still well ahead with 35 per cent of the spindles of the world, the United States coming second with 22 per cent. National as well as local policy dictated Premier MacDonald's intervention in the Lancashire difficulty.

AVERAGE AND "MEDIAN."

That a statistical average may be entirely misleading and that there are times when a more accurate "median" should be figured out is pointedly illustrated in the "Ten Year Book" of the Princeton University class of 1917. It is shown that when the figures were compiled two years ago the average salary earned by the members of this class was $8,067, but that the "median" salary was only $6,000. The distinction between "average" and "median" is explained by the editors of the book, who point out that "a few abnormally high figures unduly inflate the general average." For example, "if three men receive $3,000, $5,000 and $70,000, the average jumps to $26,000, but the median remains at $5,000." It is obvious that in many instances a far more accurate idea can be arrived at through a median than through an average.

But even the median figure of a $5,000 salary shows that the men of Princeton's class of 1917 have done remarkably well. No doubt a number of factors besides education contributed to their success, including the influence of high-placed friends, the stimulus of an intellectual home atmosphere prior to college, and perhaps in not a few instances "brains" inherited from several cultured generations. Among the interesting facts stated are that 93 per cent of the 419 members of the graduating class of 1917 served in the World War, that 85 per cent of them married and these have a total of 410 children living.

GOOD GOVERNMENT.

Cleveland, Ohio, in the throes of its third battle over its manager plan of government, is busy weighing the advantages and disadvantages of the various types of government it has had in the past.

A minister, speaking on the subject from his pulpit, made a wise statement which voters everywhere ought to think about. It is immaterial, he said, what sort of government a city, state or nation has if thinking citizens go off about their personal affairs and fail to check up on those in office and on the operation of the government.

It is the old truth that a people gets about the government in wars and peacetime. In the long run the citizens make their own government. If they are lax and indifferent, their officials will be so, and crooked politics gets the upper hand. If the citizens are alert and determined to have honest and efficient government, they can have it. Good government depends on good citizens.

More progress in the packing business, interesting the housewife who wants service and is willing to pay a little extra for it. They are beginning to put on the market ready-cut meat, packed uniformly in cellophane wrappers. So far the innovation is said to be confined to lamb and pork chops, but it will soon include loin rolls, lamb shoulders and lamb legs. From that, it is hard to say how far the system will go. It depends on the housewife. Economically this looks like another move in mass-marketing, another blow to individual merchandising. The butcher has some of his work taken away from him. Still, the "butcher" no longer dealers for some years now. A little less retail slicing and sawing may not make much difference to him. The consumer stands to gain in quality, convenience and sanitation.

SAVE MORE THAN THE SURFACE

The slogan "save the surface and you save all," has certainly been a great help to the paint industry because paint prevents decay. In the same manner our dental hygienists are reminding us that if the teeth be brushed regularly the surface enamel will be preserved thus preventing decay. Now this is of course true to a great extent, but as pointed out before, the children of the foreign immigrants who come to our shores have never seen a tooth brush and yet they have wonderful teeth.

Now why do they have such good teeth? Because the mothers ate the right kind of food before the children were born, and also because these children eat the right kind of food themselves. In the examination of the teeth of Englishmen from various parts of the country a research worker recently stated that she found the great majority of them when examined in microscopic section, showed very defective development of the texture of both enamel and dentine. Experiments showed that while some foods have a beneficial influence in supplying lime for the teeth, other foods actually interfere with the lime building process.

The most powerful help for building lime into the teeth is from vitamin D. This is found in animal fats, particularly the fats of certain sea fish. It is found in egg yolk, milk, suet, butter, and green vegetables. These contain lime and phosphorus. The value of cereals as a breakfast food is dependent to a great extent on the milk, cream, or butter that is used with them, rather than in the cereals themselves. That is from the lime building standpoint. Sometimes milk, cream, butter or animal fats are not available and it is then that cod liver oil, so rich in vitamin D, becomes so valuable to the growing child. So don't do away with the tooth brush. It is needed for the surface of the teeth, but see that the child gets some of the above foods daily. It is no use saving the surface of a tooth that has become decayed from lack of nourishment.

RECAP: Roger Pell, man of mystery, is thought to have been killed by the explosion of a bomb which he had hidden in the garden of his home. The explosion was heard by the neighbors and the bomb was found in the garden. The explosion was heard by the neighbors and the bomb was found in the garden.

PELL FLITS BACK

ALTHOUGH one o'clock had passed before we got back to Woodcot, Laxton was up bright and early Monday morning, and greatly pleased my mother by finding her in the garden and loving her roses. They had become excellent friends by the time I strolled down to breakfast. "I want to go down this morning and see the diggings," Laxton announced later. "Don't worry about coming with me. I'd still like to be anonymous till we meet this afternoon. About 11 o'clock the idea occurred to me that I would look up Veronica. She might have something to say this morning. At Sandypoint, however, I saw only Mrs. Seabroke, who told me Veronica had returned unexpectedly last night, being tempted home by the fine weather. At present she had taken the dog for a run around the point: if I was walking that way I might meet her.

Pell suddenly turned on his enemies, steel-gray eyes glaring defiance.

I walked on around the point where the road became a path along the low cliffs facing the Channel.

I saw Veronica at some distance and pulled up sharp. She stood talking to a man. I had just time to notice that he was too tall to be either Royle or Somerfield. In a moment he had seen me, stooped and disappeared. Veronica saw me and walked not towards me, but away.

I turned back on my tracks. The hint was so obvious. It was not Pell. Perhaps Veronica had not recognized me. Well, that was that.

Shortly before the appointed hour of Fotherbury's meeting I walked into the avenue where that fantastic scene had been played the night before. Directed by a footman, I went to the beautiful house which the sixteenth century Redclades had spread around one of the old buildings.

At the entrance another footman met me and took me at once along a vaulted corridor to the room Fotherbury used as a library. The light here was dim to eyes coming from the sunshine outside, for the only windows, small, high in the walls and almost at the roof, were filled with painted glass.

I made out four persons in the room—Marling, Dr. Eastley, Royle and Somerfield.

Marling looked up and nodded. The two boys said in low tones, "How do, Grenofen?" I sat down opposite Royle. Marling's face absorbed me. He was paler than usual. His black tans stood out almost fiercely against the pallor of his skin. His eyes seemed to avoid me. He sat motionless on an old black chest on the right of the fireplace, with Eastley on a chair facing him.

In other circumstances I should have enjoyed the beauty of this remarkable room—the rich shadows day and spent the week end with L. A. Mellert and family.

Spaulding Keator and daughters Elizabeth and Charlotte of Arlington, New Jersey, are spending two weeks at the Valley Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Bundy and daughter Eleanor of Kingston called on friends in this village on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wernit of New York city were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry West.

Mr. Seits of Astoria has joined his family who are spending the summer at the home of Frederick Eagle. Mr. Seits's father.

Mr. Leuzener of Philadelphia, who was a guest of his mother and sister, Mrs. Anna Kenny, the past week left for New York city on Sunday.

Harry V. Ten Hagen, accountant at the wagon roof, the gleam of the leather binding of the books arrayed in shelves all round the lower half of the walls. It was all so quiet, mysterious: the one modern touch was supplied by a wall telephone at the side of the hearth.

But the human interest of the occasion put aesthetics out of mind, and almost at once that interest was intensified by the entrance of Seabroke. He came in so fully enough, calling out to Marling: "What's it all about? Why ain't we on the ground?"

"I know nothing," said Marling, "except that Mr. Fotherbury wishes us to meet here."

The commander made an inarticulate noise registering disapproval. "I suppose," said he, "Fotherbury's found out that the blighter Pell's little game's up. What?"

And then fully enough Seabroke was the first to see Roger Pell come into the room. We all stared at Pell. I expect I was the least surprised of the party. As for him, his demeanor was remarkable. When the footman had closed the door behind him, he advanced to the long table, took a chair and sat down as though he were alone in the room.

I had a momentary impulse to get up and hold out my hand to him, but I caught a glint of the intense, gray eyes and saw in them a hostile light which killed my impulse. This was a Pell I had not known.

I sent a furtive look at the faces of the others. Somerfield's alone showed any composure. Royle frowned; Marling seemed astonished almost to the point of trembling. The doctor simply goggled. Seabroke seemed ready to burst.

They must all have been led by Marling to suppose that Pell had fled from the prospect of a meeting with Professor Laxton.

A queer prelude to a scene on Roman antiquities!

To this tableau of seven men in the rose of petrification came our host, all unconscious, apparently, of any special strain. He walked in quickly and said:

"Good afternoon, gentlemen. Ah, my dear Pell, here you are! Has anybody seen Professor Laxton? You haven't seen him this afternoon, Mr. Grenofen?"

"No," said I. No one else replied.

"These learned men!" Mr. Fotherbury smiled as he shook his white head. "Excuse me for a few moments. I'll go and inquire again."

In perhaps five minutes Mr. Fotherbury came back.

"It's very strange," he said. "I can't find anybody who's seen him."

He stood, the most conspicuous figure in the place, looking from one to the other, puzzled by our silence and constraint. Marling appeared to be choking with suppressed speech. I expected him to burst into an accusation of Pell.

But it was Pell himself who broke through the inhibition that had fallen upon us. He rose from his chair with a spring and reached the arched doorway. He shot home two heavy old bolts with two nerve-shattering noises, and turned to face us.

"That's enough nonsense!" said he in his clear, loud voice. Laxton will probably not be here. If he comes I will deal with him. Meanwhile, there's a job of work to do.

Everyone seems paralyzed with incredulous amazement and stared at Pell. I felt as though I had been hit between the eyes.

Pell was explained! He was a lunatic, and perhaps—dangerous.

Turkish Baths in Turkey Dwindle

Stambul, Turkey, Aug. 16 (AP).—American-style tubs and plumbing are driving Turkish baths out of Turkey. New Turks demand occidental tubs in the apartment houses which are rising in clusters on the Seven Hills of old Stambul, and the ancient public baths are thereby losing their customers.

Of the 165 Turkish baths which have been thriving for centuries, only 52 now remain open. At these spacious, marble-lined hamams life of Stambul was once at its gayest.

The Association of Stambul Bath-keepers, an organization which has existed for more than a century, has published a proclamation exhorting the citizens of New Turkey not to forsake the paths of boiling, hot soapy cleanliness dear to their forefathers.

"The world," laments the proclamation, "is not so clean as it used to be."

While stylish Turks are exempt from this denunciation as they boast private baths in their new apartments, the poorer and middle classes are being publicly upbraided by the hamam keepers. Customers who used to come once a week, they say, now appear only once or twice a year. The hamams are crowded by Moslems only during the sacred festival of Ramadan, and by Greeks only around Easter time.

New York, Aug. 16.—Members of the Dairyman's League Cooperative Association, Inc., will receive a net pool price of $2.36 per 100 pounds for 3.5 milk produced in July, according to an announcement made by the Association today.

This is the highest July price in the history of the Association. Other July prices were: 1928, $2.25; 1927, $2.24; 1926, $2.15; 1925, $2.05; 1924, $1.62; 1923, $2.18; 1922, $1.62; 1921, $1.90.

The July price is nine cents higher than the return in June when the members received $2.27. That was the low return of the current year. June of 1928 was also the low return of that year the price then being $2.06.

Returns to League members during the first six months of 1929 were $2,176,292 more than the distribution for the same period in 1928. The average price per 100 pounds for the first six months of this year was $2.62 as compared to $2.38 a year ago.

FIRE HYDRANTS AND HOSE MADE STANDARD

Kingston's fire hydrants and fire hose is now standard according to state regulations, having been made so under the direction of Edward A. Howland of the National Board of Fire Underwriters. The change was made by members of the local fire department with materials furnished by the underwriters without expense to the city. The practice of having the fire fighting material standard makes it possible for one department to go to another city in answer to a call for help properly equipped.

Who Am I?

I am more powerful than the combined armies of the universe.
I have destroyed more men than all the wars in the world.
I am more deadly than bullets, and I have wrecked more homes than the lightning of a storm.
I spare no one, and I have my victims among the rich and the poor, the young and old, the strong and the weak.
My name is known to me.
I look up to such proportions that I cast my shadow over every field of labor, from the turning of the grindstone to the moving of every train.
I massacre thousands upon thousands upon thousands of wage earners every year.
I lurk in unseen places, and do most of my work silently.
You are warned against, but you heed not.
I am invisible, I am everywhere; in the home, on the street, in the factory, at the railroad crossing, and on the ocean.
I destroy, crush and maim.
I give nothing, but take all.
I am your worst enemy.
I AM CARELESSNESS!!!

One of the leading citizens of Kingston is a great help to his wife, oiling the lawn mower for her before he leaves the house in the morning.

Then there is that long, long story about the girls who go to work in the button department of the shirt factory and sew on and sew on—

Glady's—You men all kiss alike.
Eddie—Well, stop me if you've had this one.

Are Flowers Mis-named?

Project for 1929*Will Equip Dental Clinic for Underprivileged—Medical Inspector Crispell Outlines Ministry of School
Health Work.At the meeting of the Kiwanis Club it was announced that the Board of Directors had voted to undertake as their chief project for the year the equipping of a dental clinic for the benefit of the underprivileged. The club will have the hearty cooperation of city officials and the Board of Education.If there was any doubt as to the need of such a clinic that doubt was dispelled upon hearing the address of Dr. Crispell, school health officer or "medical inspector for the school system" in which he revealed some deplorable health conditions existing among the school children of our city.Dr. Crispell briefly outlined the history of health work in school systems in general, and the history and working of the medical inspection in the school system of Kingston in particular.The doctor related briefly the results of the work of the previous year in the Kingston schools. He said that about seventy per cent of the pupils in the public school system were examined last year, and in eighty per cent of the cases one or more physical defects were discovered. This means that only about twenty per cent of the pupils examined were without discoverable defects. He cited the number and importance of certain of the defects and said that about ten per cent of those examined showed visual defects, also that about ten per cent showed defective nutrition. He pointed out that further facilities for diagnosis were needed by the medical examiner. Specifically he mentioned an Audiometer, an instrument to accurately measure hearing, and X-ray and other facilities, especially in the case of underweight children, who are potentially tubercular.Among the interesting facts brought out were the lack of vaccination (only a little over fifty per cent of the pupils were found to have been vaccinated), but more encouraging, the results of the toxin-antitoxin campaign, which immunized over seventy per cent of the pupils, with the result that there were no cases of diphtheria among the school children in the last year. He cited this as a tangible demonstration of the value of Public Health work.Dr. Crispell pointed out the lack of clinic facilities in Kingston for the clinics which are already held here, and emphasized the need of dental work in the school system. He characterized the situation as to dental hygiene as deplorable. It was found that over two-thirds of the pupils examined needed dental work, and in many cases the financial condition of the parents prevented this necessary work from being done. He stated that it was necessary for the community to make an organized effort to see that this was done, and suggested as a Kiwanis project that they furnish clinic facilities for the clinics that are already being held in Kingston.The committee that has been working on the dental clinic project consists of the Rev. O. E. Brandorff, chairman, and Doctors Gates, Eastman, Boeve, Crispell and Jones. The club will continue its other present welfare work, such as providing milk daily to the underprivileged child-ren at an outlay of almost $100 a month.At the meeting Charles Adams, who manages the annual Kapers, spoke briefly concerning the plans for this year's Kapers. He assured the club that he has thus far staged the best that he has thus far staged. The proceeds of the annual Kiwanis Kapers are devoted to welfare work.
A considerable amount which is received from dues is also used for welfare work.APPEAL DAY IN COUNTY

Doubt Story of Murder Suspect

Duluth, Minn., August 16 (AP).—Oscar Olson, 29, a Duluth dock worker, confessed today, police said, to slaying Dorothy Anne in Minneapolis last Tuesday. Chief of Detectives R. E. Donaldson, however, expressed doubt concerning the man's story.

While Olson, arrested as he was attempting to drown himself in a small pool, gave details of the slaying, Chief of Detectives Donaldson, after questioning the man, said he showed signs of insanity and that he had confessed to another murder in Duluth of which police had no record.

Donaldson said Olson would be questioned further concerning details of the slaying of the Minneapolis girl who was attacked and then strangled to death after she had disappeared from her home last Tuesday.

Raid Offices of Coastal Airways

New York, Aug. 16 (AP).—Under instructions from the federal attorney, ten postoffice inspectors today raided the offices of Coastal Airways, the Airvia Corporation, Hadley and Company and the Howland Company. Grand jury subpoenas were served on all persons found in the offices and demand was made for production of all books and papers.

which runs one to Boston, recently merged.

The raids were ordered by Chief Assistant Federal Attorney George J. Mintzer, who is engaged in a campaign against bucket shops, tipster sheets, and other organizations of the type he has characterized as "financial speakasies."

Just before they started on their flight to Rome Roger Q. Williams and Lewis Yancey were named president and vice president of Airvia but they resigned and severed all connections with the company immediately upon their return to this country.

Mintzer said both Hadley and Company and Airvia were headed by Austin H. Montgomery, who has served a term in Atlanta penitentiary for mail fraud in connection with stock operations. He said that 35,000 shares of Airvia stock had been sold through Hadley and Company at $12 a share and that Howland Holding Company is a printing concern that issued prospectuses and other matter for Airvia and Hadley and Company. Coastal Airways was raided because of its announced merger with Airvia.

Associated with Montgomery, Mintzer said, was a man known both as Tiffany and as Taylor.

CLAIMS SWIMMING

Endurance Record

New York, Aug. 16 (AP).—A swimming endurance record of 61 hours was claimed for Mrs. Corinne Roseburg, 35, after she was taken unconscious from a Bronx swimming pool early today.

Mrs. Roseburg, a native of Reading, Pa., started her endurance swim at 1:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. She was so exhausted when taken from the water that a physician ordered her removal to St. Francis Hospital. It was said she would be compelled to remain there several days before returning to her home.

The former record of 60 hours was made by Mrs. Myrtle Huddleston last September at a Coney Island pool.

LIGHTNING HITS BARN AND DESTROYS STOCK

Wednesday afternoon, a bolt of lightning struck a barn owned by Mike Cataldo located on the Flatbush road at Glasco. The building, together with an adjoining barn, were burned to the ground. Three horses, a cow, calf and a bull, which were in one of the barns, were burned to death. Farm implements and the season's crop of hay stored in the other barn, were also destroyed. Washburn Hook & Ladder Co. and Mulford Engine Co. of Glasco, responded to the call sent, and they fought vainly to save the buildings and stock, but to no avail. The loss to Mr. Cataldo is said to be heavy.

Saugerties Politics

Present indications, says the Saugerties Post, are that Henry A. Lamoureux of Blue Mountain, one of the town assessors, and a very active and influential member of the Odd Fellow fraternity in the town, will head the Republican town ticket this fall, as the party's candidate for supervisor. Charles H. Bennett and Stuart B. Maxwell, whose names had also been favorably mentioned for the nomination, have decided not to become candidates for the nomination.

Says Russia Has Begun Offensive

London, August 16 (AP).—Reuter dispatches from Nanking state that the Nationalist government has instructed the Chinese minister at Washington to notify the Kellogg pact signatories that Russia has begun an offensive along the Manchurian border.

The Nationalist government at the same time instructed the minister to state that China, while resisting invasion, would abide by the spirit of the Kellogg pact and still hoped to arrive at a settlement of the Chinese Eastern Railway controversy by peaceful means.

The Chinese action was said to have been taken after Nanking had received reports confirming previous dispatches that Russia had invaded Chinese territory.

The Reuter dispatches quoted Former Minister Wang as denying there was any disagreement between the Nanking government and Mukden and stating that Chang Hsueh-liang, governor of Manchuria, was following the instructions of the Nationalist government.

"China remains firm," he said. "The Russian associate managers of the Chinese Eastern Railway cannot be reinstated before the opening of negotiations. China's only course is for the entire nation to unite in resistance to Red imperialism else it will perish in the grip of Communism."

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, Aug. 16.—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets).—The demand for apples was light on the local wholesale section again today and values tended downward. Western New York number one Duchess apples peddled out at $5.00 per barrel. The 2 1/2 inch commercial pack realized $3.50.

It is becoming increasingly evident that this will be a year of light fruit production. Very dry weather in most of the important apple states during last month resulted in a decrease of 5,000,000 bushels. This would be about one-fifth less than the crop harvested last year but one-fifth more than the very short crop of 1927. The commercial apple crop is forecast at approximately 30,000,000 bushels, compared with 35,000,000 in 1928.

State Big Boston lettuce sold more readily today and prices averaged a 1/16 higher. Receipts were moderate. Crates of 24 heads of the best offerings realized $1.25-$1.50. Western Iceberg of fine quality brought $4.25-$4.50 per crate of 48 and 60 heads.

Attractive tomatoes met a prompt outlet at slightly higher prices. Supplies were moderate. Sales on 12-quart baskets from the Hudson Valley were consummated at 75 cents to $1.25. Green tomatoes from the western part of the state changed hands at 65c-75c.

The market of Catskill Mountain cauliflower was about steady. Trading was moderate and receipts were fairly liberal. The number one stock jobbed out at $2.50-$3.25, occasionally $3.50. The number two cauliflower sold at $1.25-$2.00. Western consignments realized $1.50-$2.00.

Hudson Valley Clappa Favorite pears were in moderate receipt. Trading was slow. Bushel baskets of number one fruit peddled out at $2.00-$2.50, occasionally $2.75 while number two wholesaled at $1.25-$1.50.

According to August 1 condition, the pear crop is still expected to total 19,600,000 bushels, which would be about four-fifths as large as the 1928 crop. With the exception of 1927, condition of pears is the lowest since 1921.

SIXTEEN INJURED, EXTENSIVE DAMAGE BY EXPLOSION

Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, Aug. 16 (AP).—An explosion caused extensive damage in the business section today, injuring sixteen persons, some of them seriously.

The explosion apparently was due to escaping gas. It occurred on business premises of Drury Lane, blowing out the front of an office building, wrecking a safe, and shattering the windows of the town hall opposite and of a large number of shops in the vicinity.

School of Politics for Women

Washington, Aug. 16 (AP).—Mrs. Virginia White Speer, Republican National committee woman for the District of Columbia, today announced that a school of politics, open to women everywhere, would be held in Washington late in April or early in May. Several women's political schools have previously been held under Mrs. Speer's direction, but the coming one will be the first in which she has issued a national invitation as District of Columbia committee woman.

Withdrew $2,000,000 in Bank Run

New York, Aug. 16 (AP).—Depositors in the Bay Ridge Savings Bank of Brooklyn, who became excited yesterday over rumors that there was a run on the bank and thereupon started an actual run began today to put their money back. By 9 o'clock, 174 old depositors had returned, bringing back $3,000 of the nearly $2,000,000 withdrawn yesterday. They continued coming back throughout banking hours.

Carriage Station Agent Robbed

Carriage, N. Y., Aug. 16 (AP).—A masked man held up and robbed G. J. Dowling, station agent of the New York Central Railroad here early today, and escaped with $140.

Stage Set for Bouts Tonight At Fair Grounds

The stage is set for Bill Singer's weekly card of boxing bouts at the Kingston Fair Grounds tonight, when, if the weather is favorable, one of the best cards ever put on here is expected to please a large number of spectators.

The bouts, scheduled to start at 8:15 o'clock, are slated for 34 rounds, provided everyone of the matches go the limit. This is not likely, though, say the dopesters, who believe that some of the hard punchers in tonight's set-tos will finish their work early.

The Nick Ziuna-Harry Matinsky scuffle, which prompted many fans to purchase tickets, is expected to be the feature attraction of the evening. These boys fought a draw here several weeks ago and their battle pleased so well that they were matched, by popular demand, to fight it out tonight. It is said that their meeting tonight will be more thrilling than the first.

Another bout in which local fans are much interested is the one that will bring together their favorite, Jole Carpio of this city, and Harry Crotty of New York. Carpio is ready to give the action that he always shows. He is not after a win over Crotty, who has a good reputation around the metropolis, and promises the fans that there will be plenty to interest them in his scrap.

Joe Tinsley, the Peekskill negro, who defeated Jackie Golden by a knockout in the local ring several weeks ago, has his pouncing rods set for a kayo tonight when he mixes it with Bruno Salo of Pelham Bay. The latter pugilist is a tough customer so Tinsley will have a job on his hands tonight, it is said.

Other bouts on the card are Frank Goosby vs. Joe Corbett, (6); Benny Husick vs. Raymond Tabon, (6); Willie Young vs. Eddie Mund, (4).

Campolo Wins Over Heeneey

New York, Aug. 16 (AP).—Take it from Tom Heeneey, the "honest blacksmith" from New Zealand—the next heavyweight champion will be Victorio Campolo of the Argentine.

"Honest Tom" expressed his opinion of Campolo's worth last night after the six-foot seven-inch South American had stopped him in the ninth round of as brutish and savage a struggle as metropolitan fans have witnessed since the palmy days of Jack Dempsey.

"The greatest fighter I ever faced," was Heeneey's comment. "No one ever hit me as hard as that giant did. I think he'll be the next heavyweight champion."

For seven rounds the New Zealander and his giant opponent battled, on even terms, the tide of apparent victory swinging quickly from one to the other. In the eighth, however, Heeneey weakened by Campolo's heavy body punches, was a mark for the Argentine's right hand. One crushing right sent him to the floor for no count just before the round ended. In the ninth Campolo battered the New Zealander from pillar to post and finally floored him with a terrific right. Gaily Heeneey got up at seven but he was out on his feet and the referee stepped in between the fighters and led Tom to his corner, victim of a technical knockout.

Campolo who failed to impress the experts in his first fight with Arthur Dekuh, from whom he won on a foul, gave every sign of future greatness last night. He boxed well, was extremely fast on his feet for so big a man, carried plenty of dynamite in his right hand and displayed at the same time a long left that kept Heeneey away most of the time. The Argentine took full advantage of his superior weight and reach and fought a heady battle. He weighed 223 to Heeneey's 204½.

The fight kept a crowd of 18,000 at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn in a constant uproar.

EASTERN GRASS COURT TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Rye, N. Y., Aug. 16 (AP).—Four men and four women—only three of them from the east—remained in the running today for the two singles championships of the annual Eastern grass court tennis tournament.

In the men's singles the east still has Big Bill Tilden and Frank Hunter, first two ranking players, to depend upon, but in the women's division only 16-year-old Sarah Palfrey of Boston remains to carry the banner of the Atlantic seaboard.

Although Tilden has dropped a set to nearly every opponent in this tournament he was favored to beat John Doe of Santa Monica, Cal., in the semi-final round. Hunter was in a more critical situation. His semi-final round opponent was H. W. (Bunny) Austin of England, who had been performing in splendid style. Their match was regarded as something of a toss-up, with Austin holding whatever edge there was.

In the women's division, Miss Palfrey, who scored an amazing victory over Mrs. May Sutton Bundy of Santa Monica, defending champion and National champion in 1924, was to meet Mrs. L. A. Harper of San Francisco in the semi-final round. Mary Greer of Kansas City and Ethel Burkhardt of San Francisco were matched in the other bracket.

Industrials to Play Saturday

After a forced idleness of two weeks, due to the rainstorms, the Industrials will try to stage another ball game Saturday afternoon at the Athletic Field. Their opponents will be Joe Gunn's All stars of Poughkeepsie. The game will be called at 4 o'clock sharp.

Gunn is well known to Kingston baseball fans, having played with some of the best teams that Poughkeepsie has turned out. Although a veteran he is still a dangerous man with the bat and plays a real good fielding game. He will be supported by stars of the Twilight League of Poughkeepsie, including Steele, Wonderly, Haver and Simmons.

Foxy Kaman is most likely to get the pitching assignment for the All Stars, with Brennan in reserve. Both pitchers have been turning in good performances this season.

The Industrials' line-up will be as follows: Culliton, 1st base; Davitt, 2nd base; Slicker, short stop; Glasser, 3rd base; with Lay, Merritt, Moore and Hoffman in the outfield.

"Waco" Peters probably will be the Industrials' selection to do the pitching. Peters has been going good all season, especially in the Industrial League. Jim Volker and Ken best will be held in reserve. Hank Smedes is slated to do the catching.

Poughkeepsie teams have not fared so well when they came to Kingston, most generally being forced to take the short end of the count, so the All Stars are determined to trim the Industrials when they meet them tomorrow. A lot of interest has been taken in the game and a large crowd is expected to attend it.

Paddock Again Under Fire

New York, Aug. 16 (AP).—Charley Paddock again has drawn the full force of official condemnation.

Answering statements made by Paddock in the current issue of Collier's Weekly, Avery Brundage of the A. A. U. declared yesterday that Paddock, "by admitting that he has been sailing under false colors and never has been an amateur honestly," has "confirmed the suspicions" that nearly caused his disbarment from the 1928 Olympic team.

"Paddock's article is filled with inaccuracies and untruths, is sensationalism of the rankest sort and is just what might be expected from someone whose record has been replete with efforts to cash in on his athletic prowess regardless of the rules," Brundage declared.

Brundage said that after the Olympic trials at Cambridge last summer practically every member of the A. A. U. track and field committee and of the American Olympic committee felt that Paddock "repeatedly had capitalized his athletic fame and had therefore forfeited his amateur standing."

Under the rules, however, the case reverted to the A. A. U. district in which Paddock was registered as an athlete. This district, the Southern Pacific Association of the A. A. U., cleared the sprinter and the national registration committee concurred. Paddock then went to Amsterdam with the team.

Paddock's charges that he was "cheated" out of a place in the semi-final round of the 100 meter dash at the tryouts; that the heats were "seeded" in an effort to eliminate him; that the time announced for his heat was two-fifths of a second slower than it actually was, and that he was forced to return to the west coast to compete in the section tryouts at Los Angeles all were categorically denied by Daniel J. Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the A. A. U.

67th Birthday Of A. A. Stagg

Chicago, Aug. 16 (AP).—Amos Alonzo Stagg celebrated his sixty-seventh birthday today.

Next month the "Grand Old Man" of the midway will start his fortieth consecutive year as a college football coach and his thirty-eighth season at the University of Chicago.

To get in physical shape for the season, Stagg plays a vigorous game of tennis almost daily.

The 67-year-old football genius manages to beat his 18-year-old son, Paul, former junior Olympic champion, about every other day.

Pals Step Into Majors Together

The young stars who have climbed together from the humble ranks of the minors will try to strengthen the Yankees next year.

Sport Slants

By Alan J. Gould,
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

Some fifteen years ago they knew him as "Red Mac", the "California Comet". Maurice E. McLoughlin was one of the rare types that flash brilliantly upon the scene of action, giving everyone a thrill while at the top. He was the greatest tennis player of his day, twice American champion in 1912-13. He is staging a come-back this September but it will be on the hazardous, wind-swept stretches of Pebble Beach's golf course, not on the historic turf of Germantown or Forest Hills.

The return of "Red Mac" to the competitive arena, as an entry for the first time in the National Amateur Golf Championship at Del Monte will be one of the most interesting episodes of the closing outdoor campaign. To gain entry to this blue ribbon affair of the links requires a club handicap of no more than three strokes. This means McLoughlin has been shooting consistently in the low seventies. No matter how far he goes in the Battle of Pebble Beach it will be worth while noting whether "Mac" smacks the golf ball with the same confident abandon he did the tennis ball in the days when his aggressive tactics revolutionized the game.

Several years ago I happened to run across McLoughlin, sitting inconspicuously in the marquee at Forest Hills. I asked him what changes he noted in the game.

"You always notice the effect of the dominating players more than anything else," he remarked. "Tilden and Johnston are the big stars now. Both are essentially base-liners and you notice the way these youngsters hug the back-line, copying Big Bill and Little Bill. Tilden, however, also has encouraged development of the all-court game. I preferred the more aggressive, net games in my days and so did Dick Williams."

Bobby Jones detects similarity between golf and polo strokes in that "to swing easily and freely is the important end" in each sport. Writing in the magazine, Polo, Bobby stresses the advantage of a good start and tells how he does it.

"I have hit upon a plan and followed it religiously ever since. I start now taking an easy, comfortable stroke at first, increasing the power gradually as I feel I am able. I usually drive at my limit by the time I reach the fifth hole. In this way I am well warmed up and my swing is working smoothly before I make any attempt to extract extra yardage from it."

"Polo, of course, is a game in which the stroke is made with the right arm. In golf, the main damage a right hand can do is by throwing the club forward and out from the top of the swing. This motion causes the player to cut across the ball or if the right hand turns over to hit the ball with the face of the club hooded. The first motion should bring the right elbow close against the ribs on the right side of the body. The right arm must be absolutely straight at impact."

Banner Polo Events.

New York, Aug. 16 (AP).—Virtually every leading polo player in the United States and a few from England are to see action in the National Open championship and the Monty Waterbury Memorial Cup tournament, banner events of the season. The two events will run concurrently at the Meadow Brook Club, Westbury, N. Y., from Labor Day, September 2, through the following three weeks.

Game at Fair Grounds.

The Koenig Kandy Kids and the Roundout A. C. will meet at the Kingston Fair Grounds, Sunday afternoon. These teams are evenly matched and a fast game should result.

To Check Horus Growth.

To prevent the horns of cattle from growing, caustic potash should be applied from time to time.

Tagging Major League Bases

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Athletics apparently have developed the knack of advancing while standing still, but the Cubs have gone them one better by finding a way to gain ground while losing. The Mack-lin margin was stretched to fourteen games yesterday when the Yankees lost to Detroit as the leaders sat idle in Cleveland; the Cubs won and lost in a Brooklyn double-header but the Pirates obligingly dropped a 2 to 1 decision at Braves Field, tossing half a game into the lap of Joseph McCarthy. The Chicago lead now is eight and one-half engagements.

Real pitching duels were on tap yesterday at Braves Field, Navin Field and the home of the Browns. The most noteworthy mound performance was turned in at Detroit by Earl Whitehill, who limited the savage Yankees to two small hits to win by 3 to 0. The champions went hitless until the seventh when Bob Meusel spoiled Whitehill's afternoon by outacing Westling's throw and getting credit for a single. Roy Sherid, Whitehill's pitching opponent, got a clean blow in the next round, and that was all.

Sherid himself turned in a smart game, which is becoming something of a habit with him, but he was not prepared to meet such extraordinary work as the Detroit southpaw flashed. Harry Rice placed the game beyond Sherid's reach in the very first inning with a home run.

George Blacholder allowed the Boston Red Sox just three hits at St. Louis yesterday to win over Jack Russell by 3 to 0 while Fred Marberry and Garland Braxton collaborated upon a four-hit performance which set the White Sox down by 9 to 4 at Chicago. Marberry was forced to retire at the end of the sixth inning because of sudden illness, but credit for the victory remained with him.

Rain kept the Athletics and the Indians indoors in Cleveland. They meet in a single game today, an open date for both teams.

Guy Bush trimmed Brooklyn by 9 to 5 in the first game of the Flatbush double-header to gain his seventeenth victory of the season, but Dazzy Vance evened things up by downing the Cubs by 5 to 4 in the second half of the program. The end of the first game was enlivened by a shower of Flatbush confetti from spectators around third base in the ninth inning when Bressler was ruled out for being hit by a batted ball.

Umpire McLoughlin was the target of the bottle throwers. Their disposition was not improved when Johnny Frederick followed with a home run which would have put the Robins almost in the game had Bressler been on base. Another shower of soft-drink glassware was aimed at all three umpires as they marched off the field in the escort of patrolmen at the end of the first game. The incident apparently was forgotten when Vance won the nightcap.

Rogers Hornsby collected his twenty-sixth homer in the first game, and Kiki Cuyler hit for the circuit in the second. Bush's victory in the opener broke the tie which had existed between him and Burleigh Grimes for the league leadership. Each had won sixteen and lost two until Bush pulled ahead yesterday.

Ed Brandt turned back the Pirates with two hits at Braves Field to win by 2 to 1 from Remy Kremer, who yielded eight blows. Lord Wauer collected both of the safeties off the Boston hurler. Brandt was scored upon solely because of his wildness. Comorosky hitting a sacrifice fly in the sixth after three men had been passed.

Frank O'Doul's twenty-third homer, with two on base enabled the Phils to win from the Reds by 5 to 4, and the Giants just outlasted the Cardinals, 3 to 1. Ott hit his thirty-first.

Confidence Counts.

Faith in yourself is absolutely necessary, through thick and thin. A football coach says that "The team that won't be beat can't be beat." You can go farther and say that the man who won't be licked can't be licked.—Giff.

MISS RENABEL BONEY TELLS ROTARIANS OF MAVERICK

Miss Renabel Boney, alert and charming publicity manager for the Maverick Theatre, was the speaker at the Rotary luncheon at the Governor Clinton this week, at which S. D. Scudder, Jr., presided with grace and dignity in the absence of the president, Maj. Ashton Hart, who is somewhere in the South teaching youthful pupils the art of warfare. Miss Boney's topic was, of course, the hopes, fears, victories and glories of the Maverick in general and the Maverick Theatre, one of the perfectly sane branches of Maverick activities, in particular.

Tracing the Woodstock career of Hervey White from his arrival in 1902 with the late Ralph Whitehead, to and through his embarking on the independent enterprise of the Maverick, Miss Boney told an interesting tale of struggle and success, financial as well as artistic, to the present state, at which those creative artists who can pay do so and those who cannot pay are just as welcome, and the Maverick is able to and does pay its own bills, thus being an asset to the business life of the community.

The Maverick Festival, Miss Boney said, is the annual relaxing of the Maverick Colony and its friends, and she made clear the fact that staid and conservative citizens should not think that it was at all typical of Maverick life at other and normal times.

The theatre has been a success this season and will close Labor Day with an assurance that it will re-open next year, when a greater proportion of the plays will be new productions never before seen.

Mr. Wells, the Maverick leading man, also spoke briefly.

Visitors present included Rotarians from Bronx, Mt. Vernon and California.
